

PRODUCT NAME

MEN'S HPX TACTICAL PANT- NAVY

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

High Performance Tactical Pants allow you to perform and operate in a world where everyone demands performance. Whether you're in general response duties or highway patrol, patrolling the local shopping centre, chasing down an offender, or evacuating a suburb, these pants can be worn all day in a range of seasons and conditions giving you an operational edge.

Frontline HPX Range brings a new level of protection to first responders. These pants have been designed and tested by first responders for first responders to deal in a range of rapidly changing tasks and environments they are scalable to a broad spectrum of duties.

The HPX Tactical Pants are constructed from light weight 220gsm Ripstop 70% Cotton 30% Poly with mechanical stretch with a NO MELT NO DRIP capability.

This lightweight durable and comfortable fabric is Oeko-Tex 100 Certified meaning that there are no harmful chemicals in the fabric such as formaldehyde and other known cancer-causing chemicals.

The fabric is not treated with fabric stiffeners which restrict breathability such as Teflon. The fabric is certified to offer UPF 50+ protection and is moisture wicking and fast drying. They are easy care because sometimes there is not much time between shifts.

The mechanical stretch offers a first responder duty pant that does not contain highly flammable elastane and a degree of comfort and fit which allows for a range of operational activities.
